Reminders

Hello Infant Families,

Happy Spring! This month we will be testing our new parent app. Instead of the handwritten sheets, everything will be available to you through the app (Changing times, Feeding times, daily activities, photos, etc.). This app will allow us to communicate to each other throughout the day in live time. Please be on the lookout for an email with your invite code to get started.

As always, please contact me with any questions you may have.

Miss Jordan :)
